UIBE's President Chen Zhunmin meets with President Goodfellow from the University of Kent to sign a memorandum of understanding

UIBE's President Chen Zhunmin met with his University of Kent counterpart

President J.M. Goodfellow to sign a memorandum of understanding, encouraging the relevant schools, teachers and students to carry out direct exchanges between the two Universities. Accompanying President J.M. Goodfellow were Assistant Vice-President Professor Alex Hughes, and Director of the International Office Stephen

Wallis. The attendees of the signing ceremony also included Professor Wang Wen, Dean of UIBE's School of Insurance and Risk Management (SIRM); Mr. Xia Haiquan, Vice director of the International Cooperation and Exchange Office, Mrs. Xiang Jie, Assistant Director of the International Cooperation and Exchange Office, and Professor Zeng Lixin from SIRM.

The University of Kent, located in the United Kingdom, is a comprehensive university with various disciplines such as economics, law and politics. The Specifically, the major of Actuarial Science ranks number one in Great Britain.

The signing of the memo helps UIBE in the following three aspects: boosting the development of Actuarial Science at UIBE thanks to access to the excellent resources available at the University of Kent; UIBE internationalization outreach will be enriched; the academic influence of UIBE will be enlarged.

Before the signing ceremony, the guests visited UIBE's SIRM and held a working-level talk with teachers headed by Professor Wang Wen on the cooperative training of professional actuarial talents. The guests also looked around the Beijing Center and the photo exhibition of UIBE's history. They spoke highly of UIBE's achievements in all undertakings, the dynamic international cooperation and exchange, the open education concept and various training programs available to international students at UIBE.
